

many Americans live on the outskirts of hope because of poverty, because of color, Our task to replace despair with opportunity.

unconditional war on poverty we shall not rest until that war is won.

won in the field, in every private home, in every public office, from the courthouse to the White House.

Our chief weapons better schools, better health, better homes, better job opportunities to help more Americans, escape from squalor and misery our effort must pursue poverty, pursue it wherever it exists--in city slums and small towns, in sharecropper shacks or in migrant worker camps, on Indian Reservations, in the boom towns in the depressed areas.
